

ABSOLUTELY NO SPEARS ALLOWED

All new divers to CoCo View are required to watch the orientation DVD and complete an orientation dive with one of our Dive Masters.

A lot of you have been traveling for many hours and want to relax and start your diving vacation on Sunday morning. The diving package that you paid for starts Sunday morning, however we understand that some of you would like to get in the water as soon as possible so we have 2 options for orientation. The DVD and orientation dive are designed to show you the only safe cut through the reef where Newman's and CoCo View Walls are. This is the route you will be using all week when doing drop dives and shore dives. This dive also allows you to do a shore entry in shallow water to check your gear, make sure you are weighted correctly and get comfortable in the water.

Normal Orientation: (Recommended)

The normal dive orientation is Sunday morning at 8:30am, upstairs in the clubhouse. There is a 24 minute DVD followed by a shore dive with one or more of our Dive Masters. The cost of this Sunday orientation dive is included with your dive package. Please take the time on Saturday afternoon to identify your assigned boat (noted on the blackboard in the breezeway at the back dock), locate the boat and its associated gear locker, get your gear unpacked and set it up in your locker. You can also obtain your weights from the weight room located on the back dock.

Optional Saturday Orientation:

For those of you that arrive early on Saturday and want to get in the water ASAP, you can choose this option. You will need to view the DVD on Sunday morning during the regular orientation. Prior to the Saturday orientation, you will need to identify your assigned boat (noted on the blackboard in the breezeway at the back dock), locate the boat and its associated gear locker, get your gear unpacked and set it up in your locker. You can also obtain your weights from the weight room located on the back dock. The Dive Master will meet you in the locker area to complete the dive.

You must be geared up and ready to enter the water by 3:00pm. 1-2 people $25 ($12.50 each) 3 or more persons $10 each. Please pay the Dive Master directly before the dive. Thank you.
